

Clean-Room Cleaning

Service can be this meticulous

Excellence Through Individual Service Management

Professional cleaning services are increasingly a management priority: for the maintenance of real estate value and for better control of operating costs, systems and environmental care. And because each facility requires a different solution, we, at Dussmann Service, place emphasis on individual service management. This involves providing each client with a service combination that is finely tuned to individual needs. From architectural services in the planning phase to preventive measures, reduction of costs and perfectly coordinated technology.

Competence Through Worldwide Experience

With Dussmann Service, you have a partner at your side with over 46 years experience in Facility Management. We fulfill the specific requirements of each individual client all over the world and in a number of different industries:

- high-tech operations
- solar technology
- pharmaceutical companies
- medical facilities

Perfection Through High Standards of Quality

For clean-room cleaning, two things are absolutely essential: highest standards of quality and uncompromising compliance with specifications. In order to meet these very special demands, Dussmann Service cooperates with leading suppliers. Cleaning procedures are determined hand in hand with our clients. Goal-oriented innovations enable us to provide precise, systematic solutions: amending processes to facilitate effective servicing of areas which are generally extremely time and cost intensive to clean, for example.

Reliability Through Exceptional Training

In clean-rooms, personnel are the most significant source of contamination: as a carrier of contamination and as a result of activity. This is just one of the reasons why clean room cleaning requires a high level of professional knowledge and skills.

At Dussmann Service, you can rely on a professional service team. Each member of staff is thoroughly prepared for his or her work in the clean-room. In addition to training on air-lock procedures and the tasks involved in cleaning, staff practice changing into and out of special clothing. We train our clean-room staff internally according to DIN ISO 14644, VDI 2083 and Good Manufacturing Practice (GMP). We also operate a comprehensive further training program which includes central training at the company's own training center, on-the-job training and market-oriented training courses. The comprehensive range of training materials has been prepared by our service division specialists. Over 250 training slides cover subjects such as:

- general principles
- health & safety
- floor surfaces and appropriate cleaning methodology
- cleaning and care products
- modern cleaning technology and procedures in the clean-room

Confidence Through Detailed Documentation

Clean-room cleaning is documented using control methods which are simple to apply. Flexible systems enable provision of information at any time – and if necessary, anywhere – about the services carried out. In order to check the quality of results for our clients, we carry out electronic measurement of airborne particles - quantifiable cleanliness and comprehensive quality assurance.

Success Through Goal-Oriented Communication

Each clean-room is different and each process has individual requirements. This is why communication with the client is an essential part of the cooperation, right from the start. Consultation and agreement on specifications is part of the planning and proposal phases. Dussmann Service provides you with a professional team who help you to make the services which we provide a reflection of your processes.

Clean-Room Cleaning

Cost-Efficiency Through Optimum Synergies
